FROM THE DESK OF THE NATIONAL PRESIDENT

Shalom .... Mitra Tuhan di Marketplace,

Dalam bulan Mei kita mencermati pelemahan mata uang IDR terhadap USD, dan mata udang dunia lainnya, selain itu kita dikejutkan dengan berita aksi terorisme yang menelan korban di Rutan Brimob Jakarta, dan di beberapa gereja di Surabaya dan juga penyerangan ke kantor polisi di Riau dan kejadian ini mendorong Pemerintah dan DPR untuk segera meyelesaikan revisi atas RUU Anti-Terorisme yang akhirnya diputuskan dalam Rapat paripurna DPR pada tanggal 25 Mei 2018. Sekarang telah menjadi Undang-Undang yang dijadikan pegangan oleh penegak hukum dalam hal ini Kepolisian dan TNI dengan orientasi pencegahan..

Selama bulan Mei juga secara pribadi mengalami kedukaan, oleh meninggalnya Kakak terkasih saya, juga disusul oleh meninggalnya Kakak kandung Bapak saya.

Kita perlu menyadari apa yang Pengkotbah sampaikan dalam Firman Tuhan, bahwa betapa bermaknanya hidup kita, pada saat kita berada bersama dengan orang yang sedang berduka. Hidup ini hanya sekali, karena itu pergunakanlah untuk pekerjaan Tuhan dalam semua bidang kehidupan kita.

Mitra Tuhan di marketplace, mewakili seluruh National Board, saya menyampaikan banyak terimakasih untuk seluruh doa, donasi dan partisipasi anda untuk ICCC-Indonesia (International Christian Chambers of Commerce)

Joshua Nguyen Dai Dong and his wife, Lynh are a goodly couple who are active in the marketplace ministry. They are both professional business trainers. They would like to teach TWL series to the business circles in Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia.

We believe this is the time that GOD provides, since few years back the ICCC Asia came together for the training and this couple was present.

Let us pray for open doors for them.

VISI DAN TUJUAN ICCC

International Christian Chamber of Commerce (ICCC) lahir dari kepatuhan terhadap visi yang diberikan selama kurun waktu enam tahun kepada seorang usahawan Swedia J. Gunnar Olson, yang diteguhkan dengan nubuat dan terbukanya pintu kesempatan disekitarnya yang sebelumnya tertutup.

ICCC merupakan panggilan yang serius dan menantang bagi pengusaha Kristen untuk mengenali jaman yang sedang kita masuki dan dengan terang dari pengenalan itu memasuki dimensi iman yang baru yang disediakan bagi mereka yang ...” takut akan TUHAN ... berbicara satu sama lain ... dan menghormati namaNya.” (Maleakhi 3: 16)

Visi ini memanggil para pengusaha dan kaum profesi di seluruh dunia yang terbebani untuk saling berhubungan, bertukar pendapat, memperdagangkan barang dan menyediakan jasa, saling mendukung dan menguatkan secara rohani dan materi.

Berdasarkan eksistensi dari visi itu sendiri memproklamirkan otoritas Kristus yang mutlak diseluruh dunia.

Pada intinya ICCO adalah kehendak TUHAN untuk memperluas tali kasih-Nya, melalui gereja-Nya, didalam dunia usaha. Hal ini menuntut para pelaku bisnis mencari terlebih dahulu Kerajaan-Nya dan segala Kebenaran-Nya.

Urapan tersedia bagi mereka yang dengan mata melihat dan telinga mendengar panggilan jaman.

Sebagaimana halnya Raja Daud yang menerima urapan untuk menjadi raja, jauh sebelum dia menjadi Raja, yang keadaan pada saat urapan diberikan sama sekali tidak mungkin bagi Daud untuk menjadi Raja, demikianlah ICCO memanggil para pengusaha Kristen sebelum peristiwanya terjadi untuk mengalami kebebasan masuk ke dalam dimensi baru, dimana sasaran, strategi dan perencanaan bersama-sama diwujud-nyatakan sesuai dengan iman di dalam Kristus.

ICCO mencanangkan panggilan itu sejalan dengan rencana TUHAN bagi jaman ini sebagai kunci memperoleh berkat dan pertumbuhan dan agar dapat bangkit berkemenangan diatas gelombang ombak yang mengancam.

Panggilan ICCO: “Mereka akan menjadi milik kesayanganKu sendiri, firman TUHAN semesta Alam pada hari yang Kusiapkan. Aku akan mengasihi mereka sama seperti seseorang menyayangi anaknya yang melayani dia. Maka kamu

• Successful Christian Businessman Says Faith is Central in all His Business Decisions

A Christian businessman who owns a successful toy chain in the U.K. says he strives to honor God in his business.

The Christian Institute reports that Gary Grant, founder of the multi-million-pound toy chain The Entertainer, lives out his faith in the business decisions he makes.

Grant became a Christian in 1991, after attending a men's breakfast at his local church. Since that time, he has strived to incorporate Christian principles into his business.

For example, all 110 U.K. and four overseas stores are not open on Sunday. The company is also part of the Keep Sunday Special campaign. Grant has said that he is "accountable to God" above shareholders. In addition to this, Grant does not allow his stores to sell questionable content, such as Halloween merchandise or realistic weapons.

"We just want to be comfortable with what we're selling," Grant said. The Entertainer's website states that the company "only sell toys we believe have real play value, represent good value for money and are suitable for the children they're made for".

Grant has also been in the habit of praying with his staff. In 2008, amidst the financial crisis, Grant prayed with his staff every morning. At the end of the year, the business broke even.

"In everything we do, faith is central to our decisions," Grant affirmed.

• 10 U.S. Companies You Didn't Know Had Religious Founders

By Don Lee

Some business leaders make no secret of their religious faith or how it affects the way they run their companies — Chick-Fil-A and Hobby Lobby, for example, were much in the news for their founders' religious stances. With others, it might be surprising. Here are 10 U.S. companies whose religious roots might not be so obvious:

1. Marriot: Bibles in the drawer in the hotel room are almost a given, but it goes beyond that in the Marriott hotel chain, according to Business Insider. Founder John Willard Marriott was a leader in the Mormon Church when he built his company. Marriott guests often find the Book of Mormon along with a Bible in their rooms, and you won't find pay-per-view porn on your room TV, according to a report from Business Insider.

2. JetBlue: JetBlue passengers will often find founder and CEO David Neeleman on their plane, greeting them while wearing a flight attendant's apron. This approach to customer service has roots in Neeleman's time as a Mormon missionary. "My missionary experience obliterated class distinction for me," "I learned to treat everyone the same. If anything, I have a disdain for the upper class and people who think they are better than others."

3. ServiceMaster: You might hire a ServiceMaster company to clean your house (Merry Maids) or kill the bugs (Terminix) but you might not know founder Marlon Wade, a former baseball player, started his business out of his home, determined to run it the way his "strong personal faith" said he should, according to the company history.

4. George Foreman Grill: That "lean, mean fat-reducing grilling machine" is brought to you by George Foreman, the company spokesman who credits his business success with a "religious awakening" he experienced a few years after retiring from professional boxing, one that led him to ministering to youth on the streets of Houston.

He told Success magazine that integrity was good business sense as well. "You must preserve the quality of your name, your integrity," he said. "You don't want to lie about anything."

5. Carl's Jr.: “Hamblor, the God of Hamburgers,” was a feature of Carl’s Jr. commercials in 2011, but the hamburger chain’s late founder, Carl Karcher, and current chief executive Andy Puzder, shared a deep Catholic faith, according to Bloomberg Business News — which notes that the ad agency behind the “Hamblor” commercials was David & Goliath.

6. Interstate Batteries: The boss of Interstate Batteries gets a charge out of Christianity. In fact, Norm Miller stepped aside as president to become chairman to allow more time to address Christian audiences, reported CNN.

7. Forever 21: You might not like your daughter going out in the saucy, skimpy duds she bought at Forever 21, but Christians might like the message on the bag in which she brought it home: “John 3:16” is printed on the bottom of each of the clothing giant’s bags as a “demonstration of the owner’s faith,” according to CNN. Business Insider reports the Chang Family are born-again Christians.

8. H.E.B.: Texans might be familiar with the grocery chain H.E.B., but they might not know vice chairman Howard E. Butt Jr. and the Rev. Billy Graham worked together in the 1950s on spiritual programs for business people. Butt, now a preacher, also runs a Christian retreat. Until 1976, Business Insider notes, H.E.B. stores were closed Sundays and would not sell alcohol.

9. Curves: Curves gyms are heaven for women who want to work out without being ogled or judged, and even the founder’s name is “Heavin.” But that’s not all. Gary Heavin, a born-again Christian, stuck to his conservative political views and support of anti-abortion causes even when that led some members to cancel their memberships, said Business Insider.

10. Tom's of Maine: Natural toothpaste for sensitive teeth is why many people turn to Tom’s of Maine. But even though the company is “not that outwardly religious,” according to Business Insider, founder Tom Chappell is a Harvard Divinity School graduate who, on the advice of one of his professors, treats his business “like a ministry.”

Dr. Siamak G. Shahneshin is a registered architect, landscape architect, urban planner and educator. The work of his Zurich-based architecture and urban design firm (www.siamak.ch) focuses on creative solutions in multiple scales and typologies from multifamily housing and villa to landscape design to urban planning in a variety of different contexts, scales, and budgets, while dedicated to the Sustainability issues through transdisciplinary approach.

Siamak lived, studied, practiced and taught in four continents. This experience has deepened greatly his understanding of culture, climate, people and worldwide issues – an experience which comes to life in his teaching and design.

The office works side-by-side with the client and teams of fabricators, artists, craftsmen and engineers to produce an architecture that embraces the art of making within a larger agenda: to re-define the urban and social boundaries within and beyond the city. The work combines both digital fabrication and the hand made by working through a cross-disciplinary as well a cross-production process to merge the seemingly unmergeable; bridging the gap between heart and mind, cultures and people, ecology and technology, nature and constructions. Yes, even bridging the gap between architecture and politics and economy, building bridges between the many ethnic groups in our society, our cities and our world.

Siamak's works have been exhibited throughout North and South America, Europe, and Asia. He was named as an Emerging Voice by the Architectural League of New York in 2012, and he has received multiple awards including the Academy of Architecture Arts & Sciences, USA. Siamak has lectured extensively within the four continents, and recently in Germany he is named Ein Jules Verne unserer Zeit (the Jule Verne of our time).

Siamak's approaches architecture as a discipline embedded in both practice and academia. The multi-layered pedagogy which he has developed addresses multiple scales of intervention and requires careful nuance when it comes to ethical and appropriate engagement of students. He has taught design studios in several Architecture and Urban Design programmes including AA London, GSD Harvard, SFIA, UC Berkeley, ASU Tempe, and ETH Zurich. He is also a regular guest critic at several institutions throughout North America and Europe.

Siamak began his academic career in the arts and humanities. His interest in Michelangelo and Leonardo da Vinci led him to Italy, then to the Avantgarde School of Architecture AA in London and to other renowned universities: Accademia di Belle Arti Firenze, ETH Zurich, GSD Harvard, KIT, Politecnico di Torino. He received numerous awards during his graduate studies including the Royal Academy of Fine Arts, Gilberto Guidi Award, the RIAS, and the Faculty Award and Citations for overall academic achievement. Siamak has published essays about contemporary architecture, urban planning, landscape architecture, and city.

DEVOTIONAL

The Deep Roots of Godly Leadership

It is spring and it's the season when many InterVarsity chapters are selecting new leaders for the next academic year. You might be one of those students that has been asked to serve as a core leader for your chapter. It's possible that you are looking forward to that role with great enthusiasm and eagerness. On the other hand, perhaps you are unsure and wondering how you were selected. Regardless of how you feel about being a core leader for your chapter, the kind of leader you are is essential.

At the center of any Christian leader is their spiritual life and devotion to God. One cannot escape that the evidence of godly leadership is deeply rooted in his or her daily encounters with the Lord. Jesus described to his disciples the metaphor of a vine and branches. “I am the vine; you are the branches. If you remain in me and I in you, you will bear much fruit; apart from me you can do nothing” (John 15:5).

It is in this relationship that Christian leadership finds its life, strength, courage, wisdom and direction. That means we must not neglect the disciplines and practices that nurture our relationship with the Lord. Likely you have already experienced challenges to keeping that commitment. A busy academic life filled with classes, lab reports, papers, exams and class projects seems to fill every moment of the day. It is easy to be distracted by the immediate needs you face. When I’m feeling those pressures I am encouraged by an example set by Jesus himself in the Gospel of Luke. “The news about him spread all the more, so that crowds of people came to hear him and to be healed of their sicknesses. But Jesus often withdrew to lonely places and prayed” (Luke 5:15-16).

The pressures on Jesus were intense. He responded by withdrawing to pray. He did it in places where he would not be distracted and he did it often. I seek to do the same but it requires determination on my part. There is a voice in my head that says, “I can't afford to take time to pray right now.” But I set aside the time and meet with Jesus. Often at the end of my time with him I hear myself saying, “I can't afford not to take time to pray like this.”

NEWSLETTER

As Christians our leadership must be rooted in both prayer and Scripture. “It would not be right for us to neglect the ministry of the word of God in order to wait on tables. Brothers and sisters, choose seven from among you who are known to be full of the Spirit and wisdom. We will turn this responsibility over to them and will give our attention to prayer and the ministry of the word” (Acts 6:2-4).

While I am to be a humble servant, I have been called into a role that is rooted in prayer and the Bible. Hunger for God keeps me spending time with him for there is no one that satisfies the soul as he does. He meets me both in times of prayer and reading of the Scriptures. This is where the transforming work of the Holy Spirit takes place. This is where I receive the vision and guidance I seek. This is where God seems to give me courage and strength. This is where wisdom comes when I am faced with leadership challenges.

Leadership is about “doing”. Leaders accomplish things. They lead others to new heights. They make a difference for good and godly purposes. InterVarsity leaders are responsible for growing their ministry, reaching more students and faculty, bringing the good news of the Gospel to new corners of the campus, expanding their influence and constantly working to see more men and women enter the Kingdom of God.

Yet Christian leadership must be about “being” too. It is about being with Jesus—being deeply rooted in a life-giving relationship with him. It is about allowing the Holy Spirit to speak, shape and lead.

Action without prayer is arrogance. Prayer without action is hypocrisy. Whether you are enthusiastic or apprehensive about your role as a leader in your chapter, attend to both doing and being.
